PTV Lines: planning public transport faster and smarter

Organized by: PTV Group

Language: Italian

How can you quickly respond to overcrowding, diversions, new service requirements or critical connections? With PTV Lines, transport authorities and consultants can design networks and timetables through a fully digitalised workflow. The solution allows you to create and compare alternative scenarios, integrate existing data and modify routes directly on an intelligent map, with immediate updates to stops, times and distances. During the speech, we will present an Italian case study showing the concrete benefits of public transport planning.
